

CHISWICK PIER TIDE TABLES

These tide tables for Chiswick Pier use local clock times, GMT or BST according to season. The times are those predicted for High Water or Low Water at Chiswick Pier. The heights are those of the same tide at London Bridge in metres above chart datum. We felt that these heights are generally better understood and hence more useful than the heights above chart datum at Chiswick which few people are familiar with.

Note that the times and heights in the tables are predictions that may be varied in practice by the weather and by the fluvial (fresh water) flow coming downstream from the upper Thames.

The tables have been prepared for the Chiswick Pier Trust by Richard Jennings, based on data from the Port of London Authority and published with their kind permission. The Chiswick Pier Trust does not accept responsibility for the information provided.

Further information about tides on the Thames in this part of London is available online at thamestides.org.uk. In particular, real-time information on what is actually happening on the Thames, including current tide levels and fluvial flow, the Barrier status and details of any active flood alerts, are available at thamestides.org.uk/now

Tidal Differences

The following average time differences (in hours and minutes) should be applied to the times in these tables to give the approximate times of high or low water at other locations on the Thames:

UP-RIVER (Add to Chiswick Pier times)	High Water	Low Water
Richmond Lock	+0:20	+0:47
Brentford GU Canal Junction	+0:13	+0:31
Strand on the Green (Kew Railway Bridge)	+0:09	+0:22
DOWN-RIVER (Subtract from Chiswick Pier times)	High Water	Low Water
Hammersmith Bridge	-0:04	-0:09
Putney Bridge	-0:11	-0:24
Chelsea Bridge	-0:28	-1:03
Westminster Bridge	-0:32	-1:15
London Bridge (Tower Pier)	-0:42	-1:38

The Chiswick Pier Trust runs the Chiswick Pier, managing both the residential and visitor mooring facilities and hiring out the hall and conference room.

We support major river events, organise talks about the Thames, and run cruises, while the RNLI, Chiswick Pier Canoe Club, Chiswick Sea Cadets and Thames Explorer Trust are all stationed at the Pier.

There are lots of exciting things to do at Corney Reach, come and join us!

This booklet was produced by the Chiswick Pier Trust, a charity engaging people with the River Thames.
